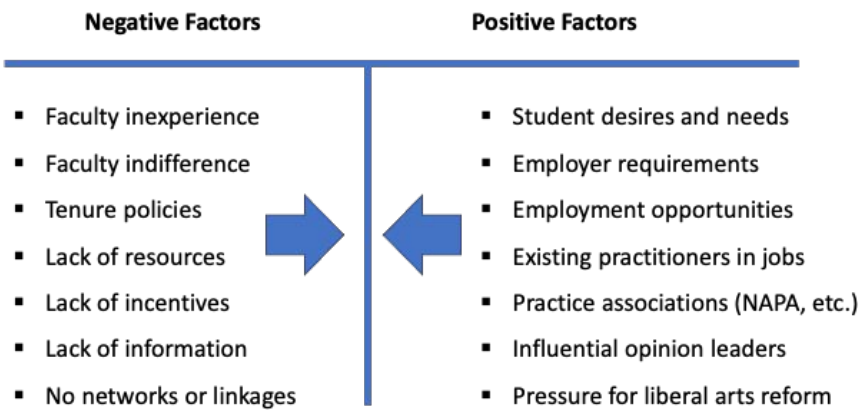
ANTHROPOLOGY CAREER READINESS NETWORK

Anthropology programs face opposing forces that require creativity, perseverance, and resilience



What can instructors do?

Build Positive Factors	Minimize/Eliminate Negative Factors	Introduce New Factors
Develop ways to connect students & help them share their experiences	Seek ways to build faculty capacity to teach practice	Create an 'invisible college' of instructors interested in practice
Look for and learn from successful experiences & efforts in other depts.	Discuss and negotiate the role of practice & application in your dept.	Develop and discuss broad standards for program excellence
Develop better connections with practitioners	Seek, develop & share curricular resources with others through networks	Help develop an online platform to connect practitioners, students & instructors
Find ways of advocating for curriculum change and tenure reform	Develop financial support for practice and for curricular change	Promote the creation of a national directory of practitioners
