This event is co-sponsored by Department of Psychology, Criminal Justice, and Sociology, Peace and Conflict Studies, and Multicultural Council.

An Emmy-award winning documentary film and discussion with guest panelists.

Fred Korematsu was probably never more American than when he resisted, and then challenged in court, the forced incarceration of Japanese-Americans during World War II. Korematsu lost his landmark Supreme Court case in 1944, but never his indignation and resolve. OF CIVIL RIGHTS AND WRONGS is the story of how he was vindicated decades later on proof that the government lied to the Court, turning a civil injustice into a civil rights victory.
